Téa Leoni

Q.When will "Madam Secretary" return? It's impossible to imagine that this show is unpopular — much to the contrary. It is so apropos to the times we are experiencing. The talent, the subjects, everything we have loved to see and learn and we did learn. — T.M.

A."Madam Secretary," starring Téa Leoni as the U.S. secretary of state, has been renewed for one more season. CBS Entertainment president Kelly Kahl announced to the press recently: "They're going to do 10 episodes in the fall and tie up the storyline. We're happy and excited to do that for Téa, the cast and the audience. It's hard when a show 'pooof goes away.' We like to be able to do this and send the show off with a great deal of respect and celebration. Everyone appreciates when we are able to do that."

I agree. It's heartbreaking when a show is canceled without any conclusion. I don't think my twentysomething self ever got over "My So-Called Life" ending with a cliffhanger after just one season 25 years ago. Fortunately, "Madam Secretary" will continue for another season, which will premiere on Oct. 6.

Q.Whatever happened to Britney Spears's little sister who used to have a Disney or Nickelodeon show? Did she quit acting for good? — A.K.

A.Jamie Lynn Spears is now 28 years old. She starred on "Zoey 101" in the mid-2000s but then took a long break from acting after returning home to Louisiana to raise her children near her parents. Now she's back, having recently announced that she landed a part in the upcoming Netflix series "Sweet Magnolias" (not to be confused with the 1989 movie "Steel Magnolias"). "Sweet Magnolias" is the name of series of novels written by Sherryl Woods about a group of women from South Carolina who have been best friends since high school. In addition to Spears, the romantic drama will also star Monica Potter ("Parenthood"), Brooke Elliott ("Drop Dead Diva") and Heather Headley ("She's Gotta Have It").

Q.I read that there is a cat convention similar to Comic-Con. Do celebrities greet fans like they do at the comic book conventions, and is it held in multiple cities? — B.B.

A.There is indeed something called CatCon, and it's been going on annually since 2015. It's just in one city, a weekend long event that takes place in Pasadena, Calif., which is near Los Angeles. So far it hasn't branched out to other cities. So, if you want to attend, I would start planning your trip now since this year's CatCon just ended.

As for celebrities in attendance, they are mostly cats that are popular on social media, like Instagram. Alas, Grumpy Cat passed away a few months ago, so any chance of meeting her in person is now gone. This year's human celebrity guest was Angela Kinsey from the TV show "The Office."

Over the years the convention has helped more than 500 cats find homes and has raised thousands of dollars for charities. You can learn more, including any potential 2020 celebrity panel guests, at www.catconworldwide.com.

The IBEW is experiencing record growth. In fact, we now have the highest number of Electrical Workers in the 125 year History of the IBEW and growing at an incredible rate. With the projected work and our committed goals, we expect to welcome thousands more electricians, in the area, into the ranks of the IBEW in the very near future. This includes: residential, commercial and industrial Journeymen. It also includes Low Voltage techs of every variety.

Many applicants have concerns that they may not be good enough or skilled enough to join the premier Electrical Union in the world. Fear not, our training facility is the best in the industry and we offer many varieties of training, free of charge to our membership. If you enjoy mastering your craft and are a quality employee with an exceptional work ethic, then we are interested in talking to you. No pressure, no stress, just a simple one on one conversation with you and even with your family if you wish.

It is time for you to find out all you have been missing by hesitating. Send your resume or simply an email to myfuture@ibew99.org or call IBEW Local Union 99 at (401) 946-9900 x227.

Prayer to the BLESSED VIRGIN
(Never known to fail). O Most Beautiful Flower of Mt. Carmel, Fruitful Vine, Splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. O Star of the sea, help me and show me here in, you are my mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. O Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times.) Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (3 times). Say this prayer for three consecutive days. You must publish it and it will be granted to you. Grateful Thanks.

very rapidly by boiling water. Your symptoms are very much like irritable bowel syndrome, and I do wonder if it might have been triggered by some event that day you were camping. Usually, three sets of cultures for parasites are done to make sure there isn't an unwelcome guest in your intestine causing symptoms. A gastroenterologist would be a good choice to help you track down an identifiable cause and to get some symptomatic relief. Antibiotics are not recommended without knowing what you are treating.

DEAR DR. ROACH: Seven years ago, I had a stroke. I was immediately put on Lipitor and Plavix. The statin drugs made my arms and shoulders ache, and the doctor tested me and found no reason for it. He said anecdotally that he had many patients who complained of the same thing. He then put me on fenofibrate. The pain stopped immediately. Now he says new research shows that any cholesterol-lowering drug makes the blood tests show lowered cholesterol levels but it does not prevent heart attack or stroke. So he took me off it. I wonder if you know anything about this study that said there was no benefit to taking statins. I did not really understand what he said. — G.C.

ANSWER: It sounds like the message got a bit confused. The evidence that statin drugs reduce the risk of heart attack and stroke in people at high risk, such as those who have had a previous event, is very strong. However, the evidence for fibrates drugs, such as fenofibrate, is much weaker. Statin drugs often cause some muscle aches. Pravastatin and fluvastatin are least likely to cause this problem, so it's worth a try switching, in my opinion. Some people get relief from muscle aches with a CoQ10 supplement.

Dr. Roach regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters, but will incorporate them in the column whenever possible. Readers may email questions to ToYourGoodHealth@med.cornell.edu.

Is 'Beaver Fever' Cause of Digestive Trouble?

DEAR DR. ROACH: Last summer I went camping and ran out of clean water. I had to boil water and drink it without any treatment tablets. That evening, I had painful cramps in my stomach, and in my upper abdomen, under my ribcage. Since then, my digestion has been horrific. I have constant rank gas and bloating when eating foods I've never had a problem with before, even fruits and vegetables. I have been a big eater of probiotic foods, with no digestive disturbances. However, since this incident, any form of probiotic, whether from capsule or natural foods like sauerkraut or kimchi, gives me the worst gas and bloating I've ever had.

I had parasite and bacterial stool testing done with my doctor, and I came up clear. I feel like I need antibiotics or something to clear whatever is going on with my digestive system, but I'm hesitant because I have had four rounds of antibiotics in 2017 from surgeries. I am worried about "beaver fever." What do you recommend? — A.L.

ANSWER: There are several infections one can get from drinking unprocessed water while camping. "Beaver fever" is a name for infection from the parasite Giardia lamblia, which is found in water where animals (especially beavers) are found. It's a reasonable thought — it's one of the few waterborne infections that can persist for months. However, I think Giardia is unlikely. Symptoms from Giardia normally begin one to two weeks after exposure, and the parasites are killed

Opossum Might Make a Good Neighbor

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: A family of possums has moved in under my porch. They are hideous looking. Are they a threat to my cat? — Julia in New Jersey

DEAR JULIA: Healthy opossums pose little or no threat to your cat, as long as it doesn't bother them. As scary as their pointed faces appear, opossums (pronounced "possusms") are not a threat to pets nor to you. In fact, they can be beneficial.

Opossums are nocturnal creatures that avoid other wildlife — meaning they move around mostly at night and try to stay out of the way of, well, anything bigger than them. If you're out at night and accidentally come face to face with an opossum — as I've done occasionally, especially growing up in the South — you'll probably get hissed at, which is frightening, but not attacked. When threatened, they often flop over and emit a foul-smelling fart. (They're not really "playing dead," as it's a reaction triggered by stress). Opossums may not even do structural damage under your porch, unlike raccoons and other small mammals.

Opossums really are remarkable animals. They're the only marsupial in North America, carrying their young in a pouch. (Possums without the "o" are an entirely different marsupial species found in Australia and the south Pacific region.) Opossums are omnivorous and eat snakes (even poisonous ones), slugs, grubs and roaches. They are reportedly resistant to the rabies virus and to Lyme disease, and they even eat ticks with no ill effects — up to 5,000 per year!

If you still don't want a family of opossums around, contact a pest removal service to trap the family and release them safely somewhere else.

Black-Eyed Peas, Please

Black-eyed peas have had a tremendous influence on both my writing and culinary career. My first book for children was entitled "Picking Peas for a Penny." It was a rhyming story about my mother and my Uncle John picking black-eyed peas for a penny a bushel basket on my grandparents' farm in Oklahoma during the 1940s.

Black-eyed peas also figure prominently in my career as a cookbook author and chef. Black-eyed peas, okra, peanuts and sesame seeds, and the oil they produce, are documented contributions from Africa via the slave trade to our American cuisine. I prepared black-eyed peas any number of ways while doing research for my first cookbook "The African-American Kitchen."

Originally from Africa, black-eyed peas are one of the most widely dispersed beans in the world. It was a nutritious staple in Africa long before it was brought to the American South. Black-eyed peas are often called black-eyed beans, or China peas (their bushy vines grew wild in Asia). Another name for the black-eyed pea is "cow-pea," as it was used in animal food.

Although called a pea, the black-eyed pea is actually an edible "bean." Both peas and beans are legumes, and both have edible seeds and pods. The most common commercial black-eyed pea is called the California Blackeye. It is pale-colored with a prominent black spot. Black-eyed peas are extremely nourishing, both to people and to the soil.

If you're looking for a delicious way to lose weight and improve your health, here are some reasons to eat more black-eyed peas:

— Black-eyed peas are a low-fat and low-calorie food. One-half cup of black-eyed peas is generally less than 100 calories and contains about 1 gram of fat. Their protein helps cells grow and repair and provides energy to your body.

— If you need more potassium and usually eat bananas and avocados, try adding more black-eyed peas to your diet! A 1/2-cup serving of cooked from dry black-eyed peas contains 239 mg of potassium, and the same amount from a can has 206 mg. Potassium is a nutrient that helps keep your blood pressure at healthy levels, which lowers your risk of heart disease. It also supports the health of your muscles and bones.

— Protein also supports most parts of your body, including muscles, skin, hair and nails. One-half cup of dry and cooked black-eyed peas contains 6.7 grams of protein, and a 1/2 cup of canned black-eyed peas contains 5.7 grams.

— Black-eyed peas are rich in iron, helping to prevent anemia, which produces fatigue and weakness. Iron helps carry oxygen throughout your body to your organs, cells and muscles. A 1/2 cup serving of canned black-eyed peas has 1.2 mg of iron, while 1/2 cup cooked from dry black-eyed peas contains 2.2 mg.

— Black-eyed peas are high in vitamin B9 and rich in folate. Studies show that folate sourced from food can cut your risk of pancreatic cancer by up to 60 percent. Folate also helps with cell formation and is especially important during pregnancy. Black-eyed peas also contain thiamine, one of the B vitamins.

If you can, get fresh black-eyed peas; they cook up in no time. But if you can't get them fresh, then use the frozen or canned variety. Whichever you choose, they'll be delicious in this recipe for Texas Caviar. It's a flavorful and nutritious dip that keeps for up to two weeks in the refrigerator.

TEXAS CAVIAR

- 2 (15-ounce) cans black-eyed peas, rinsed and drained
- 1 (15-ounce) can black beans, rinsed and drained
- 1 red bell pepper, cored, seeded and finely chopped
- 1/2 green bell pepper, cored, seeded and finely chopped
- 1 small red onion, finely chopped
- 2 stalks celery, finely chopped
- 2 Roma tomatoes, finely chopped
- 1/3 cup chopped parsley or cilantro leaves
- 1/2 cup red wine vinegar
- 2 teaspoons stevia, honey or agave syrup
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1/4 cup vegetable oil
- 1/2 teaspoon hot sauce, or more to taste

1. Combine black-eyed peas, black beans, bell peppers, red onion, celery, tomatoes and parsley or cilantro in a large bowl.

2. In a small bowl, whisk together vinegar, stevia, honey or agave syrup, garlic powder, salt, pepper, vegetable oil and hot sauce.

3. Pour dressing over black-eyed pea mixture and toss to coat. Refrigerate for 4 hours or overnight. Stir before serving. Makes 12 servings.

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

- It was noted 20th-century American poet Carl Sandberg who made the following sage observation: "Time is the coin of your life. It is the only coin you have, and only you can determine how it will be spent. Be careful lest you let other people spend it for you."
- Those who study such things have determined that one out of every four alcoholic drinks consumed in the world has vodka in it.
- You weigh more at the North Pole than you do at the equator.
- In response to increased airport security, a company in Japan has created the "Frequent Flyer Bra." It has no metal wires or clasps to set off metal detectors.
- Every day more money is printed for Monopoly than for the U.S. Treasury.
- Karaoke and karate: Other than the fact that they are both from Japan, you wouldn't think they have much in common. However, they both have the same root word, "kara," which means empty. "Oke" means "voice" and "te" means "hand;" hence, "karaoke" is "empty voice," and "karate" is "empty hand."
- A researcher in Britain calculated that local farmland contains more than 2 million spiders per acre. Must be small ones, I'd say.
- There once was a law in Marshalltown, Iowa, stating that it was illegal for a horse to eat a fire hydrant. And in Oregon, it was at one time illegal for a dead person to serve on a jury.
- Do you want an excuse to use the number six sextillion, five hundred eighty-eight quintillion? Ask someone if he wants to know how much the Earth weighs.
- Half of all Americans live within 50 miles of their birthplace.
- The youngest pope was 11 years old.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On Aug. 3, 1492, from the Spanish port of Palos, Italian explorer Christopher Columbus sets sail with three ships — the Santa Maria, the Pinta and the Nina — to find a western sea route to China, India and Asia. On Oct. 12, the expedition found the Bahamas and later sighted Cuba, which he thought was mainland China.
- On Aug. 4, 1854, Henry David Thoreau's classic "Walden" is published. Thoreau was a 27-year-old Harvard graduate when he moved to Walden Pond and built the 10-by-15-foot cabin on land owned by his friend, poet Ralph Waldo Emerson.
- On July 29, 1862, Confederate spy Marie Isabella "Belle" Boyd is arrested by Union troops and held at the Old Capitol Prison in Washington, D.C. It was the first of three arrests for the skilled spy, who later parlayed her spying experiences into a book and an acting career.
- On July 30, 1956, President Dwight Eisenhower signs a law officially declaring "In God We Trust" to be the nation's official motto and mandating that the phrase be printed on all U.S. paper currency.
- On July 31, 1964, Ranger 7, an unmanned U.S. lunar probe, takes the first close-up images of the moon before it impacts with the lunar surface. The images were 1,000 times clearer than anything ever seen through earth-bound telescopes.
- On Aug. 1, 1972, in the "Match of the Century," American chess grandmaster Bobby Fischer defeats Russian Boris Spassky during the World Chess Championship in Reykjavik, Iceland. Fischer became the first American to win the competition since its inception in 1866.
- On Aug. 2, 1990, Iraqi forces invade Kuwait, Iraq's tiny, oil-rich neighbor, and gain control of 20 percent of the world's oil reserves. On Aug. 9, Operation Desert Shield began as U.S. forces raced to the Persian Gulf.

Good Housekeeping

Pork, Pineapple and Red Onion Kebabs

A little brown sugar brings out the natural sweetness of the pineapple and the pork, and the bite of red onion gives these grilled skewers a lively kick.

- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 2 teaspoons olive oil
- Kosher salt
- Pepper
- 1/2 pound pork loin, cut into pieces
- 1 medium red onion
- 1/2 small pineapple

1. Heat grill to medium-high. In a large bowl, combine the brown sugar, chili powder, cumin, 2 teaspoons oil and 1/2 teaspoon each salt and pepper. Add the pork and toss to combine.
2. Cut the onion into 8 wedges, then cut each wedge in half. In a medium bowl, combine the onion, pineapple and the remaining tablespoon oil.
3. Thread the pork, onion and pineapple onto the skewers and grill, turning occasionally, until the pork is cooked through, 8 to 10 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

HOLLYWOOD
 by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — "Game of Thrones" stars have moved on. Richard Madden, who scored big as Elton John's lover in "Rocketman," is up next in Sam Mendes' "1917," with Benedict Cumberbatch and Colin Firth. Though the 33-year-old Scotsman played a gay man in "Rocketman," he prefers not to discuss his private life and has been dogged by the press, who think his relationship with his "out" gay actor roommate and constant companion, 25-year-old Brandon Flynn (who recurred in HBO's "True Detective" and the Netflix series "13 Reasons Why"), are more than "just friends."

Richard Madden

Emilia Clarke stars with Henry Golding and Emma Thompson in "Last Christmas" (in theaters Nov. 8) and "Above Suspicion," with Jack Huston. Sophie Turner, late of "Dark Phoenix," who recently became Mrs. Joe Jonas (of the Jonas Brothers), stars in "Broken Soldier," with Ray Liotta and Mark Kassen. Nikolaj Coster-Waldau has made two films in his native Scandinavia: "Suicide Tourist" and "Notat." Peter Dinklage is next in the animated feature "The Croods 2" (out Sept. 8, 2020).

Kit Harington, who came away from "Thrones" as the biggest star, must have had the greatest pressure, because he used his break to enter a treatment center to work on personal issues. Could those "issues" be because of his "Game of Thrones" co-star Rose Leslie, whom he wed in June 2018, or overmedicating?

"Slumdog Millionaire" Oscar-winning director Danny Boyle, who also directed the current Beatles songfest "Yesterday," is touting Robert Pattinson to become 007 after Daniel Craig completes his second of the two current Bond films. Problem is that Pattinson just signed to play Batman, and Boyle quit directing the current Bond films due to creative differences.

George Clooney, currently in the Hulu series "Catch 22," has signed with Netflix to direct and star in the post-apocalyptic film "Good Morning, Midnight," about a lonely arctic scientist who tries to make contact with the crew of a spacecraft as it returns to Earth.

The original Agatha Christie hit "Death on the Nile" (1978) starred Peter Ustinov (as Hercule Poirot), Maggie Smith, Angela Lansbury, Bette Davis, Mia Farrow, David Niven and George Kennedy, but the remake stars only director Kenneth Branagh (as Poirot), with Armie Hammer, "Wonder Woman" Gal Gadot and some unknowns. Branagh's other Christie remake, "Murder on the Orient Express," grabbed $363 million. Can he do it again with this cast?

Ryan Murphy and Netflix have united to bring the Tony Award-winning cast of the 50th anniversary production of "The Boys in the Band" — starring Jim Parsons, Zachary Quinto, Andrew Rannells and Matt Bomer — to movie and TV screens. Spoiler alert: It has no band and is not a musical, but they're all very funny and light ... in their loafers!

More Than 17 Million Unsafe Airbags Remain In Vehicles On U.S. Roads

(NAPS)—Today, in the U.S., more than 17 million recalled Takata airbags remain in vehicles on the road. A defective part inside the airbag can explode when the airbag deploys, potentially shooting sharp metal fragments at the driver and passengers. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) has confirmed that 16 people in the U.S. have been killed, and hundreds of others alleged to have been injured, by this defect.

Affected vehicles include those made by BMW, Chrysler, Daimler, Ferrari, Ford, General Motors, Honda, Infiniti, Jaguar, Land Rover, Lexus, Mazda, McLaren, Mercedes-Benz, Mitsubishi, Nissan, Scion, Subaru, Tesla, Toyota and Volkswagen.

Vehicle manufacturers are sending official recall notices to affected consumers. Consumers also get notifications through postcards, e-mail, social media and other forms of communication urging them to contact their dealers immediately to schedule an appointment for a free recall repair.

Even if they haven't received a communication, all vehicle owners should check if their vehicle is affected by the Takata airbag recall by visiting www.SafeAirbags.com or www.NHTSA.gov/Recalls and entering their vehicle identification number (VIN).

Dealerships around the country have replacement parts available, and the free recall repair should take an average of one to several hours depending on vehicle make and model.

"Unfortunately, many consumers are not taking immediate action, either because they have ignored the repeated safety recall notices or do not understand the severity of the situation," said Patrick Juneau, who is leading a nationwide outreach program by SafeAirbags.com.

"It is vitally important for consumers to pay attention to any notifications they receive and to schedule an appointment to have their airbags repaired for FREE. This literally could be a matter of life and death." The call to action is simple.

If consumers receive a Takata airbag recall notice, letter, postcard or e-mail, they should immediately schedule a free recall repair at a local dealership.

Consumers uncertain whether their vehicles are part of the Takata airbag recall should visit www.SafeAirbags.com and

com. They will be prompted to enter the vehicle identification number (VIN), upload a photo of the license plate, or manually enter the plate number. The website will immediately indicate if the vehicle is currently under recall for defective Takata airbags.

A free smartphone app, Airbag Recall, can also be downloaded, enabling consumers to take a picture of their license plate to immediately determine if a vehicle is under recall.

It takes just a few minutes to determine if a vehicle has a recalled airbag and just a few hours to have an airbag repaired. Take the time to protect yourself, your family and your friends.

For more information, visit www.SafeAirbags.com and www.NHTSA.gov/Recalls.

KOVELS Antiques & Collecting
 By Terry and Kim Kovel

Glass Pyramid

A 4 1/2-inch-high heavy glass pyramid was in a recent house sale. It was inexpensive, but no one knew what it was used for. It was almost too heavy to lift, so it wouldn't be a practical paperweight, but we bought it to display on a table with our obelisks. A long search of pictures online revealed what it is ... a "deck prism." It was used to give extra light to parts of an antique sailing ship that were below the waterline. The first deck prisms were used about 1840. Fire was the best source of light, but it also was very dangerous on a wooden ship, so oil, kerosene lamps and candles were avoided.

This glass prism with a slightly green tint is 4 1/2 inches high and very heavy. It was used like a window on vintage sailing ships to get light below the main deck. Just an ornament today, it is worth about $50 in an online sale.

glass still are made and used, and old ones are collected. They usually sell for less than $50.

Q. I have my great-grandfather's accordion, a pre-1900 Hohner two-row button diatonic. It was appraised, and I was told it would fetch four figures. I'd love to keep it, but no one in my family wants it. It's normal fifth scalar organization, 20 plus treble buttons and 12 bass buttons in very good condition. Where should I start?

A. You probably will get the highest price by selling the accordion at an auction of other antique musical instruments. Expect to pay the auction gallery a commission, a percentage of the hammer price. Fees are negotiable. Find out in advance what costs are and what it includes. Will the instrument be pictured in a catalog? What is the cost of shipping it to the auction? Insurance? Do you want a minimum bid? What are costs to you if it doesn't sell? You also can try a music store in your area. They may know someone who collects vintage instruments.

CURRENT PRICES
 1938 Calendar, Esso, "Happy Land-ing," child jumping from green plain, Standard Oil Company of Pennsylvania, 21 x 14 inches, $129.

The Garden Bug

Mid-summer garden checklist

- Provide a water source for birds, and keep its container clean.
- Remove infected leaves from plants and do not compost them. Bag them for pick-up or burn them (safely).
- Continue fungicidal sprays as needed.
- Fertilize container plants every two weeks with a water-soluble solution.
- Keep deadheading spent annual flowers for continued blooming. - B. Weaver

Salome's Stars

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You're finally seeing some progress with your new venture. But be prepared for it to continue at a slower pace than you're used to. Meanwhile, a loved one could be preparing a surprise.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A family member's success pulls you into the spotlight as well. Enjoy it, but don't let it overshadow or otherwise obstruct what you're doing with your own creative projects.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your honesty is, as always, admirable. But you might want to be more tactful in discussing a sensitive issue with a family member. Remember: You can give advice without giving offense.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) An unexpected workplace snag should be handled quickly and efficiently so that it leaves you time for family get-togethers. Also, you might soon get that long-sought apology.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Aspects favor family matters, especially where children might be involved. Spending time with loved ones helps restore some much-needed balance to your typically busy schedule.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) That seemingly clear-cut agreement might not be quite so straightforward after all. Recheck for language that could make you liable for hidden costs and other unpleasant surprises.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Careful, Kitty. Better to deal with someone with proven reliability than with a big talker who promises much but can't confirm that he or she will deliver. Your social life really zings this weekend.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Your matchmaking skills are at peak performance levels both in helping to staff workplace teams for upcoming projects and for bringing people together on a more personal basis.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) It's a good time to recheck travel arrangements for any changes that could work to your advantage. Aspects also favor strengthening and restoring old, fraying relationships.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Using your intuitive reasoning helps you cut right through the double-talk and go straight to what's really going on around you. Stay the course until all your questions are answered.

BORN THIS WEEK: You radiate light and warmth, and others love being close to you.
